

Lecturer in Chinese

The Department of Comparative Literature and Intercultural Studies at the University of Georgia invites applicants for the position of Lecturer in Chinese, to begin August 1, 2022.

This is a full-time, non-tenure-track appointment. The teaching load is four courses per semester. Duties include teaching introductory, intermediate, and advanced Chinese language courses.

Qualifications: An M.A. or Ph.D. in either Chinese Studies, or in second language acquisition, language pedagogy, or a related field, with an emphasis in Chinese. Native or near-native fluency in both Chinese and English. Three years of experience teaching Chinese language at the undergraduate level. Strong commitment to effective language pedagogy, teaching supervision and mentorship, innovation with technology, and curriculum development, along with a record of teaching excellence. Ability to teach Chinese literature and culture would be welcome. Candidates must have their degree in hand at time of application. Candidates with a non-terminal degree must document exceptional accomplishments in their field or in the teaching of Chinese language and must be approved for a terminal degree exception before hire.

Applications should include cover letter, statement of teaching philosophy (2 pages max), example syllabus, representative sample of teaching evaluations (3 pages max), CV, and contacts for three confidential letters of recommendation, at least one of which should address the candidate's teaching record. Applications received by December 17th will receive full consideration. Finalists will be asked to submit a teaching portfolio.

Apply online through the UGAJobs website: <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/230011>

The Franklin College of Arts and Sciences, its many units, and the University of Georgia are committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty and students, and sustaining a work and learning environment that is inclusive. Women, minorities, and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, genetic information, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation, or protected veteran status. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR (hrweb@uga.edu).

Georgia is well known for its quality of life in regard to both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.org). UGA is a land and sea grant institution located in Athens, 65 miles northeast of Atlanta, the state capital (www.visitathensga.com; www.uga.edu).